Market Conditions

For the quarter ending September 30, global markets were mixed and slightly negative. Developed markets had muted returns, with US equities outperforming their European counterparts by a small margin. European underperformance was partly explained by the retirement of longstanding German Chancellor Angela Merkel and the subsequent defeat of her party in general elections. The changing of leadership caused some investors to take a more cautious stance on Europe. In the US meanwhile, fears of inflation began to affect asset prices, but a particularly strong earnings season coupled with continued support from the Federal Reserve provided enough positive measures.

Concerns about supply chain disruption, input prices, higher regulatory risk, and broader geopolitical issues led to a steep drop of over 18% in Chinese equity prices. The significant disparity between Chinese returns in the quarter and those of the major developed markets highlights the differences in circumstances between the Chinese economic apparatus and the West. Moments like this remind investors of the inherent risks of investing in emerging markets. Simultaneously, we see the value of patience, thinking differently, performing deep research, and building a fundamental understanding of the underlying assets – key attributes that allow savvy investors to lean into these situations intelligently and potentially benefit from price dislocations.

Portfolios

The Balanced Pool is Seattle Foundation’s primary investment pool and is actively managed to deliver returns at 4.5% plus CPI over a long-term horizon. It maintains a diversified portfolio that includes exposure to global equity markets, alternative investments, and more conservative asset classes such as US Fixed Income. Over the last 10 years, the Balance Pool has gained 9.6%, outpacing its benchmark by 0.6%. Although on an absolute basis the Balanced Pool experienced a loss of 0.2% in the third quarter, relative to its target, it outperformed by 0.4%. On a relative basis, the portfolio benefited from positive stock selection across the equity portfolio as many companies with an above benchmark weight in the portfolio reported higher than expected earnings growth. In the last 12 months, the Balanced Pool has gained 26.2%, outpacing its benchmark by over 4%. While we are cognizant of ever-changing market conditions, we are optimistic about the possibilities for the Pool to perform well in the years to come.

In addition to our Balanced Pool, we offer other investment options to meet our fundholders’ needs. Our Socially Responsible Pool, designed to meet ESG (Environmental, Social, and Governance) requirements while also providing competitive economic returns, lost 1.9% for the quarter, partly due to the outright exclusion of energy companies which rallied in the quarter. Our Intermediate-Term Pool, designed to meet the expectations of donors with a grantmaking horizon in the 2-7-year range, fell 0.2%. The Foundation also manages a Short-Term Pool for donors with short grant-making horizons. This pool is intended to preserve capital as best as possible; it was flat in the quarter. Lastly, the Foundation offers an Index Pool, which is all passive, and a Growth Pool; both pools lost 1.0% in the quarter.

We are grateful for the opportunity to support you in creating strong, rewarding philanthropy to make King County a stronger, more vibrant community for all. We welcome your questions and comments about Seattle Foundation.

Sincerely,

Steve Hill

Seattle Foundation returns are net of investment management fees. Returns are not net of fees for investment consulting and custodial services. Individual fund performance may vary due to the timing of contributions and grants. The Balanced Pool has a number of private asset investments that periodically provide valuation updates too late to be reflected in this report.

We have standardized our policy to make changes to the investment pool in which your Fund is invested. Seattle Foundation Philanthropic Partners may request a change to their investment pools no more than once in a 12-month period during two windows annually. The current window closes March 31, 2022 and transfers will occur no later than May 31, 2022. Please note endowed funds are solely invested in the Balanced Pool. Investment Philosophy and Strategy

Effective stewardship of assets is key to Seattle Foundation’s ability to fulfill its mission of igniting powerful and rewarding philanthropy to make Greater Seattle a stronger, more vibrant community for all. Reflecting the infinite life of a community foundation, we take a long-term approach to our investment management to maximize the philanthropic resources available over time to meet community needs. Our long-term return objective is to generate annual returns of 4.5% plus inflation over a full market cycle of 10+ years through prudent management of a diversified portfolio.

We are oriented towards a total-return approach to investing, which aims to blend income and capital appreciation to address the challenge of preserving long-term purchasing power while dealing with unanticipated inflation. This approach to investment management is consistent with the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA), as implemented by Washington State.

As a prudent steward, the Foundation has the following main priorities for our Balanced Pool: maximize total return and protect principal. In addition to the Balanced Pool, the Foundation offers five other pools for philanthropists with different investment interests (Socially Responsible Investment and Index), risk profiles (Growth) and giving horizons (Intermediate and Short-Term). Outside management for funds larger than $750,000 is also available.
